

Open European Day

AT BONN RESILIENT CITIES

3rd May 2017
Gustav-Stresemann-Institut
Bonn, Germany

About the Open European Day

The 4th Open European Day at the Bonn Resilient Cities conference will bring together European cities and key adaptation actors to exchange on climate adaptation and urban resilience.

As in previous years, the OED will focus on city-to-city exchange on urban adaptation, and this year's edition will also include interactive workshops around three key themes:

Transformation | Innovation | Co-creation

The OED Marketplace will return this year to provide an interactive networking and brainstorming space.

Participation in the Open European Day is free of charge. Registration will open soon.

Organisers

Co-organisers